

I live in congressional district 4, the drunken duck. We have had good candidates challenge Rep. Jim Jordan. Because we are extremely gerrymandered, they have to travel to 14 county fairs, and still, they have no hope. We have many bright, reasonable people where I live. However, our votes do not count. When Bill Reineke ran into term limits as a representative in Columbus, the party decided he would be a state senator. Mr Reineke doesn't come to candidate nights or town halls. The party just decides. That is cheating.

Ohioans voted in two statewide ballot initiatives to amend our constitution, and ensure fair districts. We know gerrymandering is unjust. The legislators' newly-crafted districts still use partisan and racial gerrymandering to cheat Ohioans. We want the Ohio Citizens' Redistricting Commission Unity Maps. We voted for justice.

Sincerely, Rev Pam Easterday
